THE ANCESTORS, FAMILY, & DESCENDANTS OF

MYRTLE MAY REPLOGLE

AND

ORA EPHRAIM BARNEY

BY WAYNE W. HOSTETLER 2007

FORWARD AND TABLE OF CONTENTS

In assembling this compilation I used the daughters of Myrtle May Replogle and Ora Ephraim Barney, Fern Eunice, Mildred Irene, Phyllis Louise, and Neva Ruth, as a starting point and worked backward and forward from them.

In the ancestral portion of the Replogle lineage I have listed only those directly in the line of descent and included siblings as a total number.

The family Ditto is a brief exploration in support of the families Barney and Replogle as they figured prominently in the life and associations of Myrtle May Replogle, Ora Ephraim Barney, and their children.

The text is presented in an outline form and relationships are clearly denoted. The three families are placed alphabetically by family name. The prefix B denotes the family BARNEY, D denotes the family DITTO, and R denotes the family REPLOGLE.

Birth names are used throughout to clarify relationships. Surnames assumed upon marriage are described in the text and used as subtitles throughout the galleries.

Each individual in the compilation, and each photograph in the gallery, may be cross referenced by their/it's assigned number appearing in brackets with each name. In the text these letter/numbers are in red to make them more easily located.

The outline is assembled by generation listing the oldest known family member as the first generation. Individuals are presented initially with their parents. Once emancipated by age or marriage each individual has been assigned a letter denoting family surname accompanied by a number denoting placement in the system. A statement denoting relationship, son or daughter, of the previous generation by letter and number, follows each name.

The gallery has been assembled in a relaxed fashion, compared with the text, as many of the photographs involve a mingling of different surnames and generations.

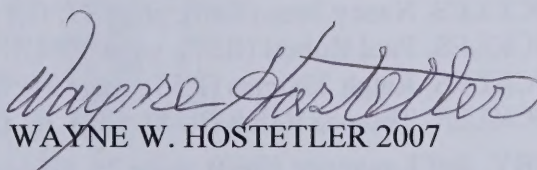

It may be noted, as compared to family records, that some marriage dates may be in error. Dates for marriages, in many cases, were taken from copies of marriage licenses. In such cases a discrepancy may arise between the issuing of the license and the event of a wedding.

In cases where parents have not contracted a marriage I have listed the parent outside the blood line as significant other.

It will also be found that in listing some names a diminutive or variation of the given name, that preferred by the subject individual, will appear with the given and surname.

Spouses listed in the Generations Outline are current or most recent.

The names in brackets following each entry traces each individual's bloodline, ie. parent, grand parent, great grand parent, etc., back to the oldest known generation.

FAMILY MEMBERS

The following, arranged alphabetically by surname, gives the location of each family member within the text and any photo(s) of the same individual that are presented in the Galleries. Gallery I, the Barneys, is designated GI and Gallery II, the Dittos and Replogles, is designated GII. Surnames are those acquired at birth. Surnames assumed upon marriage are described in the text and used as subtitles through out the Galleries to clarify relationships.

THE FAMILY BARNEY

It is not unusual for genealogical research to involve years in ferreting out bits of information to construct a family tree.

In that this listing leans toward being a family history, as well as a genealogy, I have allowed it to suffice that Ephraim Barney be the oldest known ancestor.

The name Barney is Scotch Irish in origin. Our ancestors most likely spoke Gaelic and in cases where English was spoken such would be, compared to English spoken today, antiquated.

Ephraim Barney, his wife, and three children, accompanied by a brother and his family, arrived in LaPorte County, Indiana between 1838 and 1840 from New York state.

How many generations Ephraim was removed from the land of the origin of the name Barney, and the identity of those generations, is presently unknown.

THE FAMILY DITTO

Tracing family origins finds a point where records vanish and relationships recorded in family Bibles cease. I have included the brief summary hereafter as a peripheral exploration to support both the Family Barney and the Family Replogle.

First Generation:

(D1.) PHILLIP ENOCH DITTO, born 1826 in Ohio, died West Township, Marshall County, Indiana. Married Catherine E. Nickles, born 1835 in Pennsylvania, died 1919, Marshall County, Indiana. Children of Phillip Enoch Ditto and Catherine E. Nickles: 1. Fidella S., born 6 March 1861, 2. Andrew J., born 1864, 3. Perry E., born 1867, 4. Noah W., born 1872, 5. Jackson, born 1873, 6. Elenora G., born 10 September 1876.

Second Generation:

(D2.) FIDELLA S. DITTO, daughter of (D1.) (Enoch), born 6 March 1861, Kalamazoo, Michigan, died 21 March 1924, Stillwell, Indiana. Married 1st, about 1878, assumed surname Schroeder, divorced about 1880. The census of 1880 lists her as Fidella Schroeder living with her parents and the marriage license for her and John Henry Replogle issued in 1884 gives her name as Schroeder. There were no children of this union. Married 2nd, 11 August 1884, John Henry Replogle, born 8 May 1862, Donaldson, Indiana, died 21 December 1949, MillCreek, Indiana, son of Noah Replogle and Mary Ann Winnans of Donaldson, Indiana. Children of Fidella S. Ditto and John Henry Replogle: 1. Ora Oscar, born 6 December 1884, died 18 February 1958, 2. Estella V. born 8 September 1885, died 28 April 1963, 3. Myrtle May, born 1 April 1890, died 29 November 1981, 4. Grace, born and died 1892, 5. Alice, born 16 April 1893, died 22 October 1978, 6. Charles Marcus, born 4 November 1898, died 5 April 1972. There is reason to believe 2 more children were born to Fidella S. Ditto and John Henry Replogle, Marian and Ruby. Perhaps these were stillborns or died at birth. Other than baby Grace, I never knew my grandmother, Myrtle May Replogle Barney, to be aware of these siblings. Interred with spouse and baby Grace at Donaldson, Indiana.

(D3.) ELENORA G. DITTO, daughter of (D1.), (Enoch), born 10 September 1876, Grovertown, Indiana, died 17 June 1921, South Bend, Indiana. Married, 22 July 1896, Argos, Indiana, Henry A. Sutherlin*, a resident of Fountainhead, Tennessee, born at Valparaiso, Indiana, son of Jay Sutherlin and Ella Case. Children of Elenora G. Ditto and Henry A. Sutherlin: unknown. Elenora divorced Henry in September 1911, St. Joseph County, South Bend, Indiana and reassumed her maiden name. Her regaining her maiden name casts doubt on children being born of the marriage. Her obituary lists her as Mrs. Bert Sutherlin. However, in the time frame involved, women didn't experience the individuality that is common today. Their identity depended upon their association with a male counterpart, their husbands. Interred at Donaldson Cemetery, Donaldson, Indiana.

*Apparently Henry A. Sutherlin's middle name was Albert and he was known as Bert. Elenora G. Ditto Sutherlin's obituary listed her as Mrs. Bert Sutherlin.

THE FAMILY REPLOGLE

The point and place at which records cease for the name REPLOGLE is 1656 at Soultz, Alsace, presently part of France, though it's inhabitants speak German. Our forebears were, in essence and language, German. A more correct way of spelling the name would be REBLOGLE. The German language employs the same alphabet as English but assigns different sounds to many of the letters. In addition an alternate sound is sometimes used depending upon placement of letters used in a word. Such an example would be pronouncing syllables and words ending in the letter B as though they were P. Thus the derivation of the English spelling of the name. In German, presumably, considering all letters are pronounced, the name would be pronounced RAPE-LOGGL-UH. The German letter E is used as we use a long A and the sound of the final E would not be dropped. I say presumably as I've never heard a German-speaking tongue pronounce the name.

Where applicable I have included the name as spelled in records in brackets behind the current spelling encountered today. I have also employed this method occasionally where German names have been anglicized.

First Generation:

(R1.) ANDREAS REPLOGLE (Rebloge), the most distant recorded ancestor of this lineage was born about 1656 at Soultz, Alsace. He died on 14 September 1743 and was interred 15 September 1743 at the same location. Married, Barbara ? Children of Andreas and Barbara Replogle: 1. Anna Margaretha, born 27 May 1687, 2. Phillip, born 16 July 1688, 3. Eva, born 22 November 1691, 4. Hans Michael, born 28 October 1701. Andreas was a Lutheran and a baker by trade.

Second Generation:

(R2.) PHILLIP REPLOGLE (Rebloge), son of (R1.), (Andreas) born 16 July 1688, Soultz Forets, Alsace, died ? Married Anna Louisa ? Children of Phillip and Anna Louisa Replogle: 1. John Rinehart (Johannes Reinhard), born 8 December 1720. Three (3) siblings.

Third Generation:

(R3.) JOHN RINEHART REPLOGLE, (Johannes Reinhard Rebloge), (Phillip, Andreas), born 8 December 1720, Soultz Forets, Alsace, died 1796, Woodbury Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania. Married, 8 October 1753, York County, Hanover, Pennsylvania, Barbara Konig, daughter of Abraham Konig. Interred at Snyder Farm Cemetery, Bloomfield Township, Bedford County, New Enterprize, Pennsylvania. Children of John Rinehart Replogle and Barbara Konig: 1. John, born 1778. Thirteen (13) siblings. It is thought that John was married before Barbara or had illegitimate children with his name as such records exist.

Fourth Generation:

(R4.) JOHN REPLOGLE, son of (R3.), (John Rinehart, Phillip, Andreas), born 1778, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, died before 1850, Pulaski County, Monterey, Illinois. Married Margaret Metzger, born 1778 in Germany, died 1855, Marshall County, Indiana, interred Blissville Cemetery near Plymouth, Indiana, daughter of George Phillip (Von) Metzger Jr. and Ann Louisa Juliana Broombaugh (Brumbaugh). Children of John Replogle and Margaret Metzger: 1. Daniel, born 5 February 1801. Nine (9) siblings. John Replogle interred at Monterey, Illinois.

Fifth Generation:

(R5.) DANIEL REPLOGLE, son of (R4.), (John, John Rinehart, Phillip, Andreas), born 5 February 1801, Pennsylvania, died 19 March 1862, Polk Township, Marshall County, Indiana, interred Blissville Cemetery, Marshall County, Plymouth, Indiana. Married, 6 June 1822, Barbara Penrod, born 22 February 1805, died 30 November 1887, West Township, Marshall County, interred 2 December 1887 Blissville Cemetery, Marshall County, Plymouth, Indiana. Children of Daniel Replogle and Barbara Penrod: 1. Noah, born 17 February 1821. Eight (8) siblings.

Sixth Generation:

(R6.) NOAH REPLOGLE, son of (R5.), (Daniel, John, John Rinehart, Phillip, Andreas), born 17 February 1821, Dayton, Ohio, died 17 April 1911, Marshall County, Donaldson, Indiana. Married, 24 April 1849, Mary Ann Winnans, born 26 September 1831, New York state, died 12 April 1888, Marshall County, Indiana. Noah interred at Donaldson Cemetery, Donaldson, Indiana? Noah's granddaughter, Myrtle Replogle Barney, spoke of her grandfather, a Civil War veteran, his grave marked only with a field stone, being buried at Blissville Cemetery. Since I was a child and used to accompany my mother, Neva Barney Hostetler, and grandmother, Myrtle Replogle Barney, to the Blissville Cemetery on Memorial Day the little cemetery has been restored and the stone I was shown can no longer be identified. Children of Noah Replogle and Mary Ann Winnans: 1. Charles Gilson, born 1859, 2. John Henry, born 8 May 1862, 3. Jacob W., born 12 May 1864, died 24 October 1944, 4. Oliver C., born 17 August 1866, died 1946, 5. Maynard S., born 1868, 6. Chauncey Leroy*, 7. Susan Mary*, 8. Harriet*, 9. Jane*, 10. Theodore*, 11. Edwin M.*. *Record not available.

Seventh Generation:

(R7.) JOHN HENRY REPLOGLE, son of (R6.), (Noah, Daniel, John, John Rinehart, Phillip, Andreas). Born 8 May 1862, Donaldson, Indiana, died 21 December 1949, MillCreek, Indiana. Married 1st, 11 August 1884, Fidella S.Ditto, born 6 March 1861, Kalamazoo, Michigan, died 21 March 1924, Stillwell, Indiana, daughter of Phillip Enoch Ditto and Catherine E. Nickles, West Township, Marshall County, Indiana. Children of John Henry Replogle and Fidella S.Ditto: 1. Ora Oscar, born 16 December 1884, 2. Estella V., born 8 September 1885, 3. Myrtle May, born 1 April 1890, 4. Grace, born and died 1892, 5. Alice, born 16 April 1893, 6. Charles Marcus, born 4 November 1898. There is reason to believe 2 more children were born to John Henry Replogle and Fidella S.Ditto, Marian and Ruby. Perhaps these were stillborns or died at birth. Other than Grace, I never knew my grandmother, Myrtle Replogle, to be aware of these siblings. Married 2nd, 30 November 1926, Plymouth, Indiana, Katherine S. Schade Fowler, born 21 October 1866, in Illinois, died 11 April 1948, Sandwich, Illinois, daughter of Dietrich Schade (born in Germany). Interred with spouse, Fidella S. Ditto, and child, Grace, Donaldson Cemetery, Donaldson, Indiana.

Note: When John Henry Replogle married Katherine S. Schade Fowler Katherine's son, George Schade Fowler, became his step son. George married his step father's grand daughter, Mildred Irene Barney. Thus John's grand daughter was also his step daughter in law. John Henry Replogle and Katherine S. Schade Fowler met through the intermediary of a marriage broker. A listing, perhaps, however it was done in the 1920's. Thus Katherine was a 'mail order bride'.

Eighth Generation:

(R8.) ORA OSCAR REPLOGLE, son of (R7.), (John Henry, Noah, Daniel, John, John Rinehart, Phillip, Andreas), born 16 December 1884, Donaldson, Indiana, died 18 February 1958, 3 P.M., Sacred Heart Hospital, Garrett, Indiana. Married, 15 March 1911, St. Joseph County, South Bend, Indiana, Minta Helen Rose, born 11 January 1880, Jasper County, Baxter, Iowa, daughter of Seth Rose and Eunice Bennett. Children of Ora Oscar Replogle and Minta Helen Rose: 1. Della Muriel, born 3 January 1914, St. Joseph County, South Bend, Indiana, 2. Marjorie Lois, born 10 August 1912, South Bend, Indiana, 3. Lloyd Richard, born 7 May 1915, South Bend, Indiana. Interred 21 February 1958, with spouse, Circle Cemetery, Hudson, Indiana.

Note: There is confusion over Ora Oscar Replogle's spouse's first name Minta. Some of her descendants use the name Arminta and this name has appeared in obituaries. However, I have listed her using the name Minta Helen Rose. On her's and Ora's marriage license she signed her name as Minta Helen Rose. On Ora's selective service registration cards for both world wars he listed her as Minta Helen Replogle. In addition, on both the 1920 and 1930 United States Census records her name appears as Minta Helen Replogle.

Concern has been expressed over the correct pronunciation of Ora Oscar Replogle's first name. Was it Ora or Ory? Ory appears to have been the familiar usage of the name. Ora Oscar, himself, used Ory in signing personal correspondence. However, on documents bearing his signature he signed his name Ora. Once all of the generation has passed that knew the man, Ory will be gone and the name read and pronounced as Ora.

(R9.) ESTELLA V. "STELL" REPLOGLE, daughter of (R7.) (John Henry, Noah, Daniel, John, John Rinehart, Phillip, Andreas), born 8 September 1885, LaPorte County, Stillwell, Indiana, died 28 April 1963, Wayne County, Melvindale, Michigan. Married, 7 November 1911, Stillwell, Indiana, Marion Rexford "Rex" Buckles, born 22 August 1883, died 9 February 1955, son of Minnie J. Whiteman and Francis M. Buckles of South Bend, Indiana. Children of Estella V. Replogle and Marion Rexford Buckles: 1. John Rexford, born 22 January 1919, 2. Margaret Grace, born 1917, Deer Lodge, Montana, 3. Marion Ralph, born 29 January 1921, Stillwell, Indiana. Interred with spouse, North View Cemetery, Dearborn, Michigan.

(R10.) MYRTLE MAY REPLOGLE, daughter of (R7.), (John Henry, Noah, Daniel, John, John Rinehart, Phillip, Andreas), born 1 April 1890, LaPorte County, LaPorte, Indiana, died 29 November 1981, LaPorte, Indiana. Married, 26 March 1907, Stillwell, Indiana, Ora Ephraim Barney, born 7 September 1882, Washington Township, LaPorte County, Indiana, died 25 February 1926, Kingsbury, Indiana, son of John L. Barney and Mary Jane Lily of LaPorte County. Children of Myrtle May Replogle and Ora Ephraim Barney: 1. Fern Eunice, born 24 February 1912*, 2. Mildred Irene, born 25 April 1913*, 3. Phyllis Louise, born 11 October 1918*, 4. Neva Ruth, born 14 September 1921*. *Washington Township, LaPorte County, Indiana. Interred, with spouse, Kingsbury Cemetery, Kingsbury, Indiana. Details of the children of Myrtle May Replogle and Ora Ephraim Barney are explored in depth in the Family Barney.

Note: On the marriage license for herself and Ora Ephraim Barney, see Gallery, Myrtle's name appears as Myrtle F. Replogle. This was probably the mistake of the clerk recording the information. On assuming the role of sole supporter of her family upon being widowed, and being required to present proof of age for federal employment, a birth certificate, it was discovered there was no official record of her birth by name. She was officially recorded as Baby Replogle, 2nd girl child of Fidella and John H. Replogle. Among documents left upon her death exists a sworn and notarized affidavit, signed by the County Health Officer, dated 17 March 1942 attesting that Baby Replogle, 2nd girl child of Fidella and John H. Replogle, was Myrtle May Replogle, born 1 April 1890, LaPorte County, Indiana. A second affidavit, signed by John H. Replogle, states the same. For legal purposes she signed her name as Myrtle R. (Replogle) Barney and Myrtle R. Barney is the name used on her social security card.

(R11.) ALICE REPLOGLE, daughter of (R7.), (John Henry, Noah, Daniel John, John Rinehart, Phillip, Andreas), born 16 April 1893, Donaldson, Indiana, died 22 October 1978, King County, Snoqualmie, Washington. LAPORTE, INDIANA. FIRDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1926

ORA BARNEY, TRUSTEE, IS DROWNED

AUTO PLUNGES INTO WASHOUT AT MILL POND

CARL ROBINSON AND ROLAND MCMAHON, STILLWELL MEN, ESCAPE; VICTIM'S BODY FOUND TODAY

FOUR DAUGHTERS AND WIDOW ARE SURVIVORS

Helpless when a portion of the road on which he was riding gave way before a rush of icy waters from the Kingsbury mill pond, Trustee, Ora Barney, age 43, of Washington Township, was swept to death by drowning at 1 o'clock last night near the Kingsbury power house.

Two Stillwell men, Carl Robinson, age 30, and Roland McMahon, age 18, who were riding with Mr. Barney, miraculously escaped after fighting a grim battle with death in the frigid waters.

The Ford car in which the men were riding was hurled through the road just as they approached the small bridge with which is combined the dam of the Kingsbury power station on the outskirts of the town. The road was apparently a mere shell at the time the car reached the bridge, having been undermined by the tremendous pressure of the water and ice in the mill pond bordering on the road near the dam.

BARNEY CARRIED AWAY

All three men were powerless before the rush of waters which reached a height level with the bridge floor adjoining the gap in the road. Robinson and McMahon were tossed against a tree and made their escape while Barney was swept down the creek bed on the torrent. His body was found at 9 o'clock this morning at a spot 100 yards down stream and about 50 feet west of the bridge.

According to residents in the vicinity, the water at the dam was high enough yesterday to flood the bridge floor at intervals. Huge cakes of ice were jammed against the bridge railing, it is said. Water seeped continually around the ends of the bridge and across the road eye-witnesses claim. Apparently this tremendous pressure undermined the 35 foot section of the road on the side of the bridge nearest Kingsbury.

When the light touring car reached the spot last night it's weight was sufficient to precipitate the huge mass of dirt and gravel and it went down with a roar.

THREE MEN IN FRONT SEAT

The three men were riding in the front seat of the of the Ford touring car, which was owned by Mr. Barney, and were going to visit Peter Klingler, who lives about 100 yards beyond the power house. Mr. Robinson was driving the car, Mr. Barney was seated next to him, and young McMahon was on the outside.

The car had slowed down to cross the bridge when, without warning, the section of the gravel road adjoining the bridge gave way and the car was plunged head-long into the torrent of water which swept from underneath.

Mr. Barney was swept down the creek on the crest of the torrent and his body lodged against a tree branch about 100 yards from the bridge. Mr. Robinson and Mr. McMahon, after freeing themselves from the car, miraculously caught on a tree. With the swirling waters around them Robinson was able to swim to the bridge and go for help.

He gained a footing on the bridge just in time to halt Donald Collings, residing near Union Center, who was driving in the same direction unmindful of the catastrophe and who stopped his car on the brink of the chasm.

ROBINSON TELLS STORY

Robinson, who defied death in the cold waters by reaching the bridge after a terrific struggle, told his story in detail to a Herald-Argus representative this morning.

"It was light last night because of the snow and we could see distinctly. I was driving the car and we ran up on the bridge as anyone would do. Without warning the whole bottom fell out of the road and the car went head-first down into the water. I gave a wrench at the steering wheel and broke it. I don't know what the other two were doing. Then I battled to the surface. It was terrible. Big cakes of ice cracked me on the head and I didn't know whether I could make it or not. Then I came against the tree and grabbed it. I was on the north side and when I got so I could see clearly, I noticed that McMahon was hanging on the south side of the tree."

SHOUTS ADVICE

"I yelled at him 'For God's sake hang on'. He was practically unconscious. I began looking around and saw the abutment of the bridge about 30 feet away. I knew we would freeze to death if we didn't get help. The water was pouring through with an awful roar and almost pulled us off the tree. I was afraid the tree would give way.

I started to swim for the bridge cross-ways of the current and it seemed like it took me a half hour to even get near the bridge. I was weak when I started out and I was losing fast when I got almost close enough to touch the bridge. Then I had to fight to make it; the last two or three feet were a lifetime.

As soon as I got to the bridge I took off my overcoat and then I saw lights of another car coming toward the gap. I yelled as best I could and waved my arms. The car stopped just on the edge and skidded clear around but it was safe.

Then I ran up the road to a house (Klingler's Auto Inn) where I saw a light. I ran into the back door yelling for help."

MEN DASH TO BRIDGE

At the Klingler home a group of seven or eight men interested in forming a baseball team were meeting. At the appearance of Robinson who was covered with blood, mud, and water, the men leaped up and ran for the bridge. They had heard previous noises, Mr. Klingler said today.

From the bridge efforts were made to throw a rope to McMahon, who clung to the slender tree surrounded by the sweeping current. With his feet freezing and the danger of being swept away increasing the youth was in constant peril. Finally after almost an hour of effort a rope reached McMahon and he was able with failing strength to tie the rope around him. Even then the danger was not over. In pulling McMahon to the bridge his body caught on a wire fence and another interminable interval elapsed before he was hauled, half frozen, to the bridge.

ROBINSON IS HURT

He was rushed to the Klingler home where first aid was given. Robinson was revived somewhat by this time. The driver of the car had a badly cut finger, a sprained wrist, and bruises on the face and neck caused by ice cakes striking him when he was attempting to swim.

Both he and McMahon were shaky but game this morning but declared that they would be all right in a few days.

Search was made until 3 o'clock this morning for Barney's body. The workers then quit to wait for day light. A party began searching at day break and the body was found by Leonard Bales, Kingsbury, under the branch of a tree in the creek bed. It had been carried over a neck of land by the water and deposited at the base of a tree. Near the body were huge cakes of ice which were carried by the stream, indicative of the force of the water. In the searching party with Bales were Roy Mitchell, Joseph Sigel, E.O. Craft, all of Kingsbury.

Mr. Barney was serving his second term as township trustee. He was elected on the Democratic ticket four years ago and was making a visit to Mr. Klingler to discuss running for re-election when the catastrophe occurred. He was formerly township assessor.

LEAVES WIDOW, DAUGHTERS

He is survived by his widow, Myrtle, four daughters, Fern, age 14, Mildred, age 13, Phyllis, age 8, and Neva, age 4; his mother Mrs. John Barney and a sister, Mrs. Alfred Marx. He resided on a farm adjoining that of his mother's three and a half miles south of Stillwell. His body was brought to Cutler Brothers funeral home here. Arrangements will be announced later.

The Kingsbury mill pond today was drained to a very low mark, following the bursting of the road last night. For several hours the torrent roared through the gap and flooded the fields and creek bed beyond the power house. Today only a small stream trickled through the gap. The ice on the pond collapsed as the water receded.

The power plant which uses the dam to supply power at night is owned by the Calumet Gas & Electric Company. It is said that the superintendent of the company visited the plant yesterday when the water was flowing over the bridge and the ice was jammed up and declared that it was unnecessary to open any of the sluices to relieve the pressure.

O.P. Whetzell, county highway supervisor, declared today that his office was not notified of the condition at the dam yesterday. Guy B. Holmes, owner of a general store at Kingsbury, offered to close the road running past the plant yesterday, it is said. No authority was given him to do so and the road was left open.
